New room close to home. I like it. 👍

I'm looking forward to this new room. I know they've had some challenges getting started as many new rooms have. TCH has good action but have you seen the traffic in Dallas. I'm done with the underground rooms too. Too much drama and people going into debt. Have you seen what they rake from the pots. It's gross.

I will make a full rating as soon as I get to play there.

Horrible Company

What a disgrace this place has become. Lying to the poker community. Close the shop up people. This place will be terrible. Even the places around it are awful. Know one is busy just stop the bleeding already. Thanks

Too many rooms already

Honestly, Fort is probably doomed before they even open. A few other places have opened, they are basically empty and failing. There is one room in Dallas that is the hotspot, that is the way it goes in most cities/areas. Players are going to go where the most tables are operating for table selection/+ ev situations

Seems like a lost cause

Not a word from the owners management. Take this off the atlas already. Northern fort worth does not want poker. Lets get this off the atlas now. Move on with our lives. Heard many different stories of the management hiring staff and left them stranded. Thats not very cool at all.

Taking Responsibility

Stranded, Choice, Responsibility, Accountability, it's our individual responsibility to make that commitment.

Alone, those of us that have committed or signed leases prior to the 11/01 opening date brought setbacks that have brought temporary hardship.

Equally there's many opportunities for each and everyone of us to explore.

To place blame on management breeds bitterness, disappointment, and frankly we don't want future employees bringing this negative vibe to our workplace.

This Social Club The Fort, will provide the best experience in Texas, additionally our workplace will be filled with great leadership, consistency, structure, fun and revenue for our community.

Horrible management

Managers hired a bunch of dealers told them they have the operating license. Told them it was ok to move up to the area. Now they are stranded in the middle of no where. Left to front all of the money to break there lease. What a horrible human thing to do.

location, location, location

I hope The Fort is still planning to open somewhere in Tarrant County. Fort Worth is a dead end but somewhere like Lake Worth, Kennedale, Saginaw, Burleson, etc. might be more willing to approve a Certificate of Occupancy for a poker room. I hope mgmt. can at least update Poker Atlas and let us know their status.

Will this work?

Hit them with that 3 star review and see if they emerge. What's the deal with this place? Got an opening date? A pic of the tables? Hourly rate? Is this a glitch with the app? Did the owners lose their business bankroll at TCH?

Nuthin

Apparently no activity at all. No word about anything, nothing but silence! Not even open and already @#$% people off! Just a big ole bunch of Nuthin. Why not let people know what is happening? As sleepy Joe would say, come on man!

Opening?

My local group and I would love to play here if it ever opens. Any updates would be welcome. It would be nice to have an option on this side of the metroplex. I've driven by several times but haven't seen any real activity.

Will this room actually open?

They were supposed to open on 11/1, but have gone radio silent. If they aren't going to open, PokerAtlas should take them off the list of rooms. It would be nice to get some information about the status of this room.
